

Tasssty Rainforest Snake

What you will need.

Strawberries

Banana

2 currants

Bar of chocolate

Plate

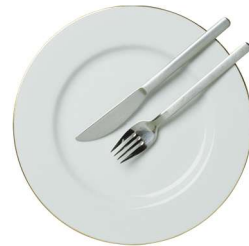

Knife and fork

Teaspoon

Bowl

Chopping board

Microwave

Instructions.

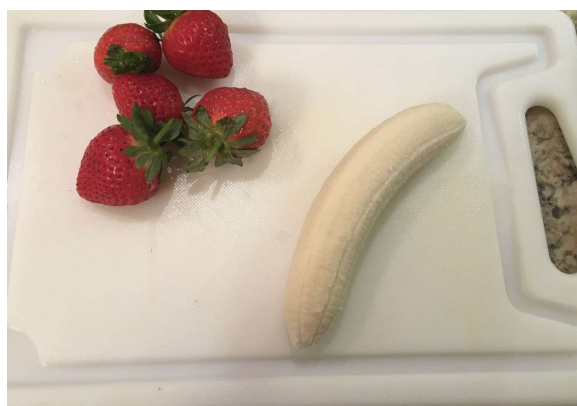

1. Wash your hands.

2. Gather all your ingredients and equipment.

3. Wash strawberries and peel the banana

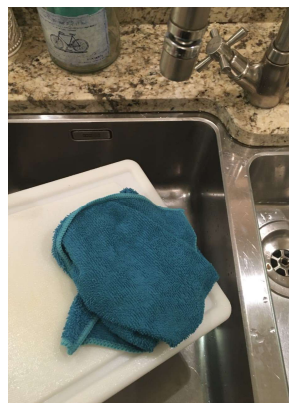

4. Put the peeled banana onto your chopping board and chop into small pieces using a knife. You might want to make sure an adult is with you for this part.

5. Now repeat the above step but this time with 4 or 5 strawberries. * Keep 1 whole strawberry for the snakes' head. *

6. Put your chopped fruit to one side and clean your chopping board.

7. Take your chocolate bar and break it up into smaller pieces.
Place these pieces into a bowl.

8. Put the bowl into the microwave and heat for 45 seconds to 1 minute until melted.

9. It is time to put your snake together! You will need to get a spoonful of melted chocolate onto your teaspoon and spread it onto one side of your banana, then take a strawberry and use the chocolate side like it is glue to stick them together.

10. Repeat this step until you have no fruit left and the body of your snake looks like the picture below. Using your full strawberry, place it at the beginning of your snake for his head. Put 2 blobs of chocolate onto the head where the snakes' eyes would be and pop your currants on top.

11. See if you can find something fun in your cupboards to make the snakes' tongue. I have used a piece of left over strawberry.

12. All that's left is to enjoy your tasty rainforest treat. Yum!

Hope you enjoyed making a snake, we can't wait to see your photographs.
